

PHS SOCIAL STUDIES THEMES

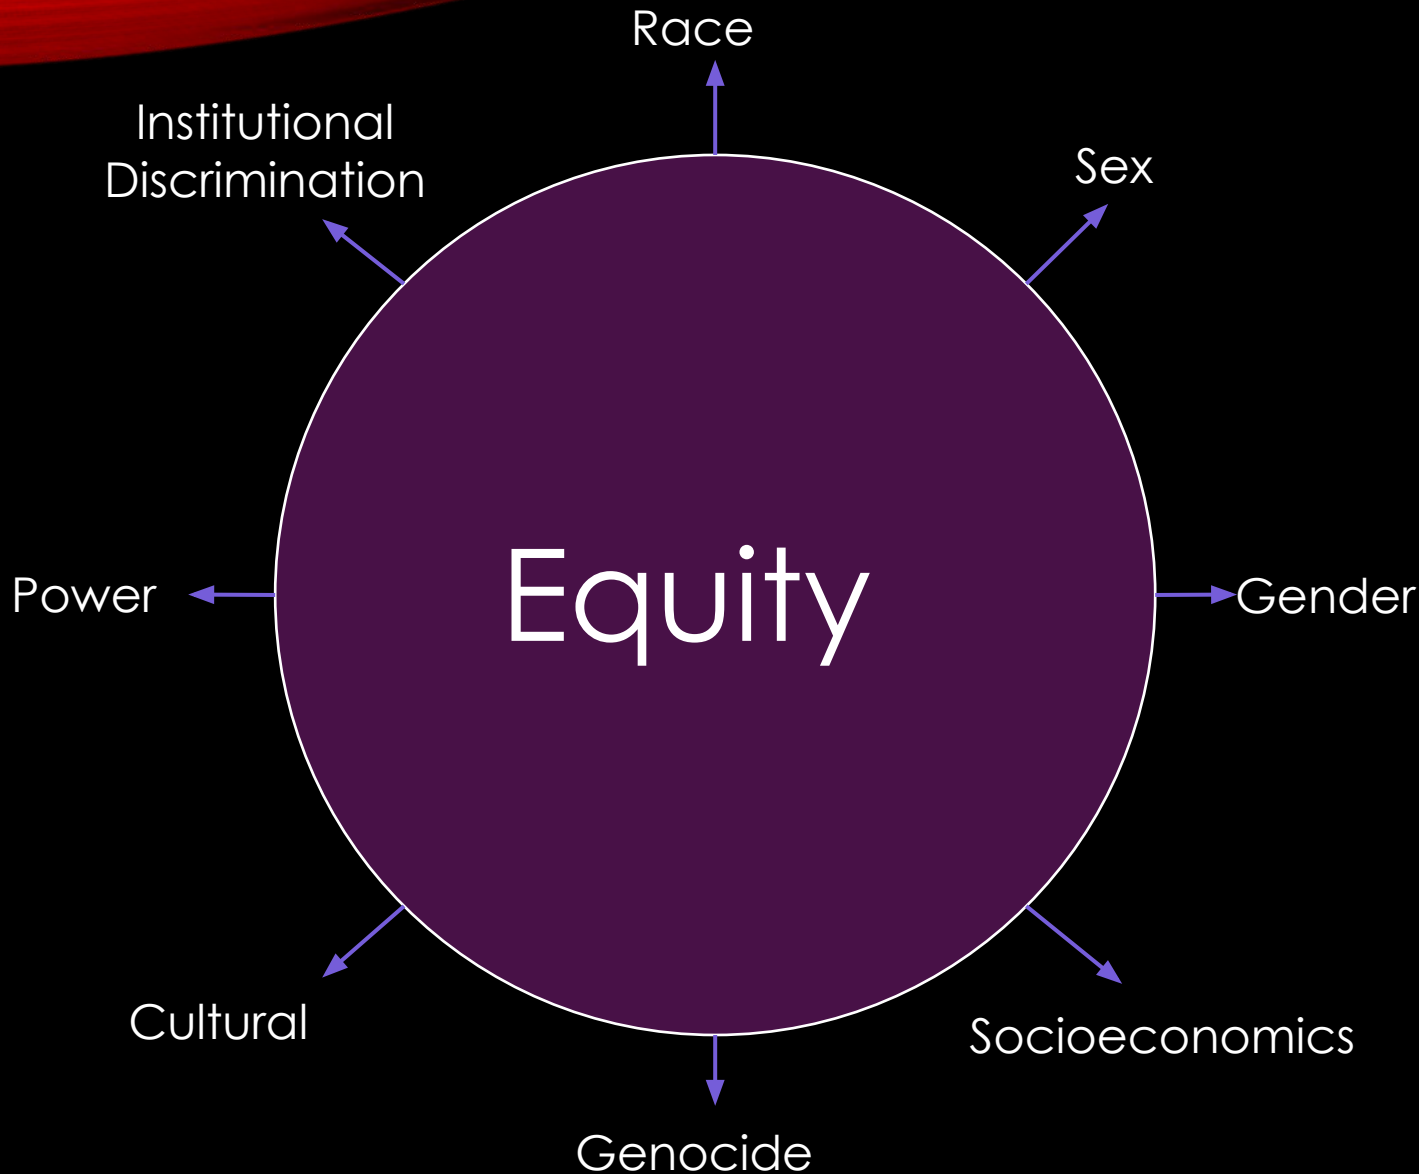

IDENTITY

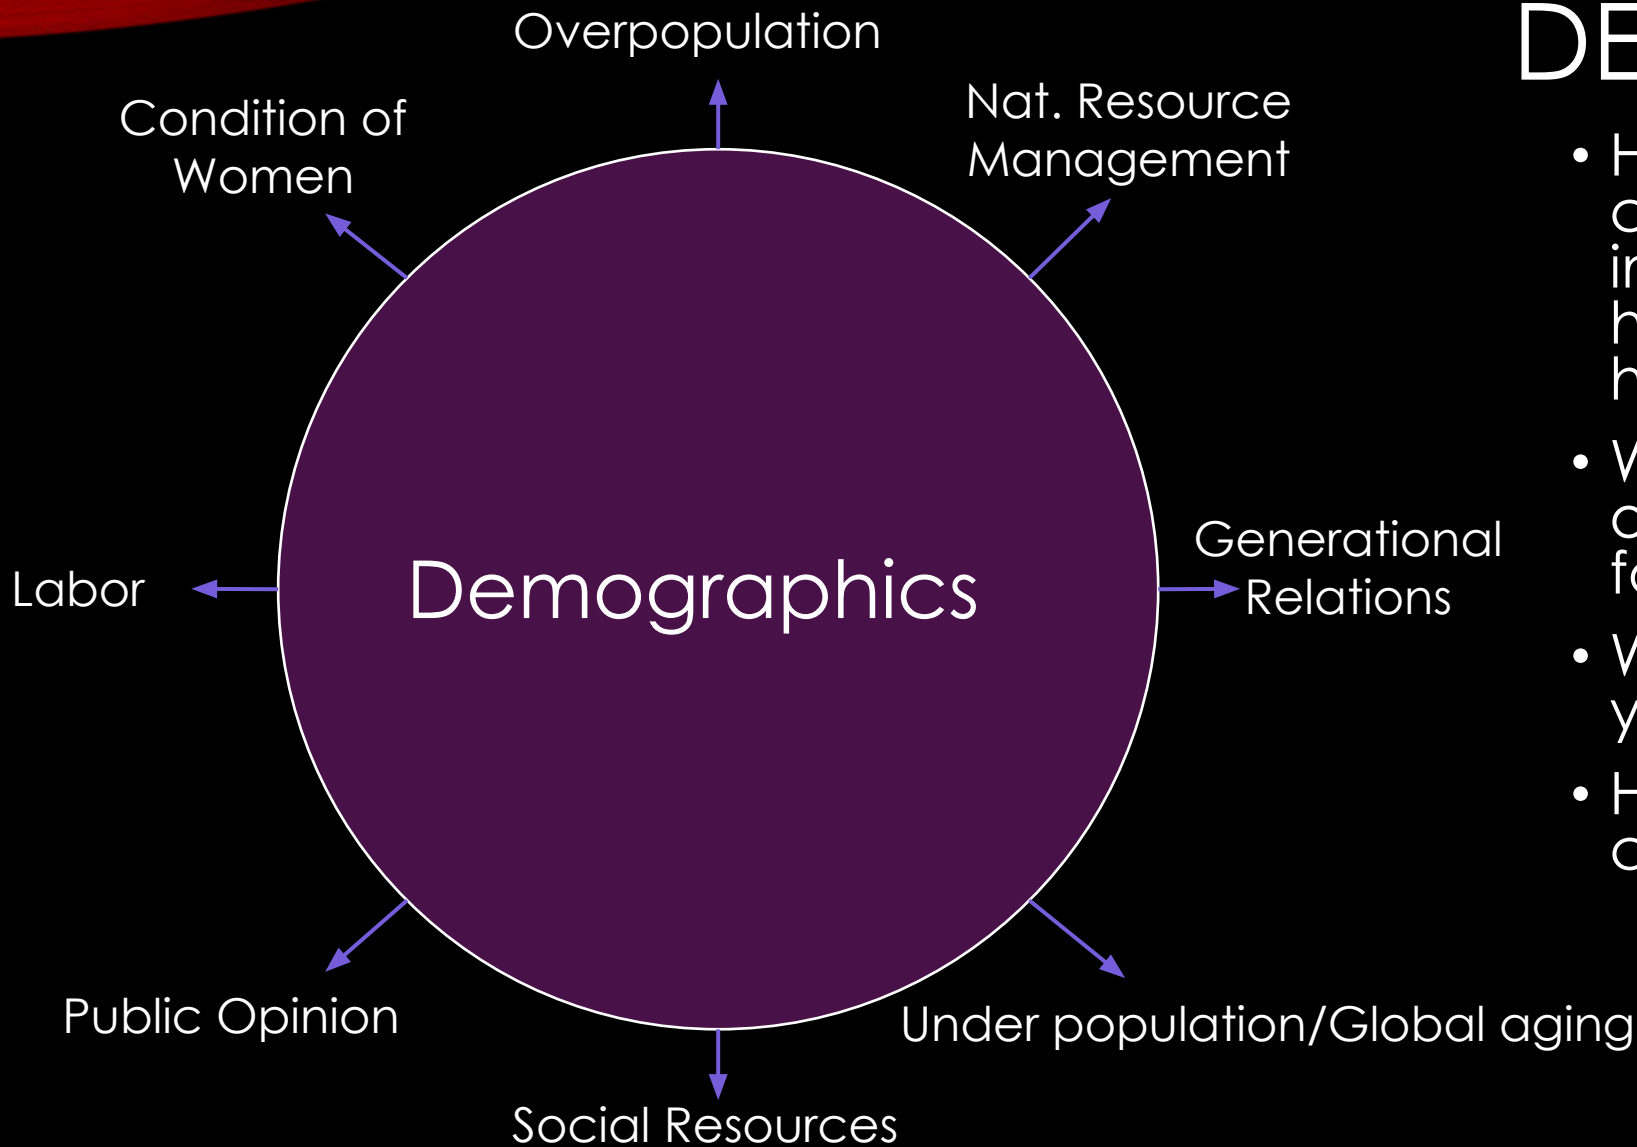

- What forms human identity and why is that process important?
- How does identity formation and assertion lead to conflict?
- What are the consequences of not understanding the complex identities of others in a democratic society?

EQUITY

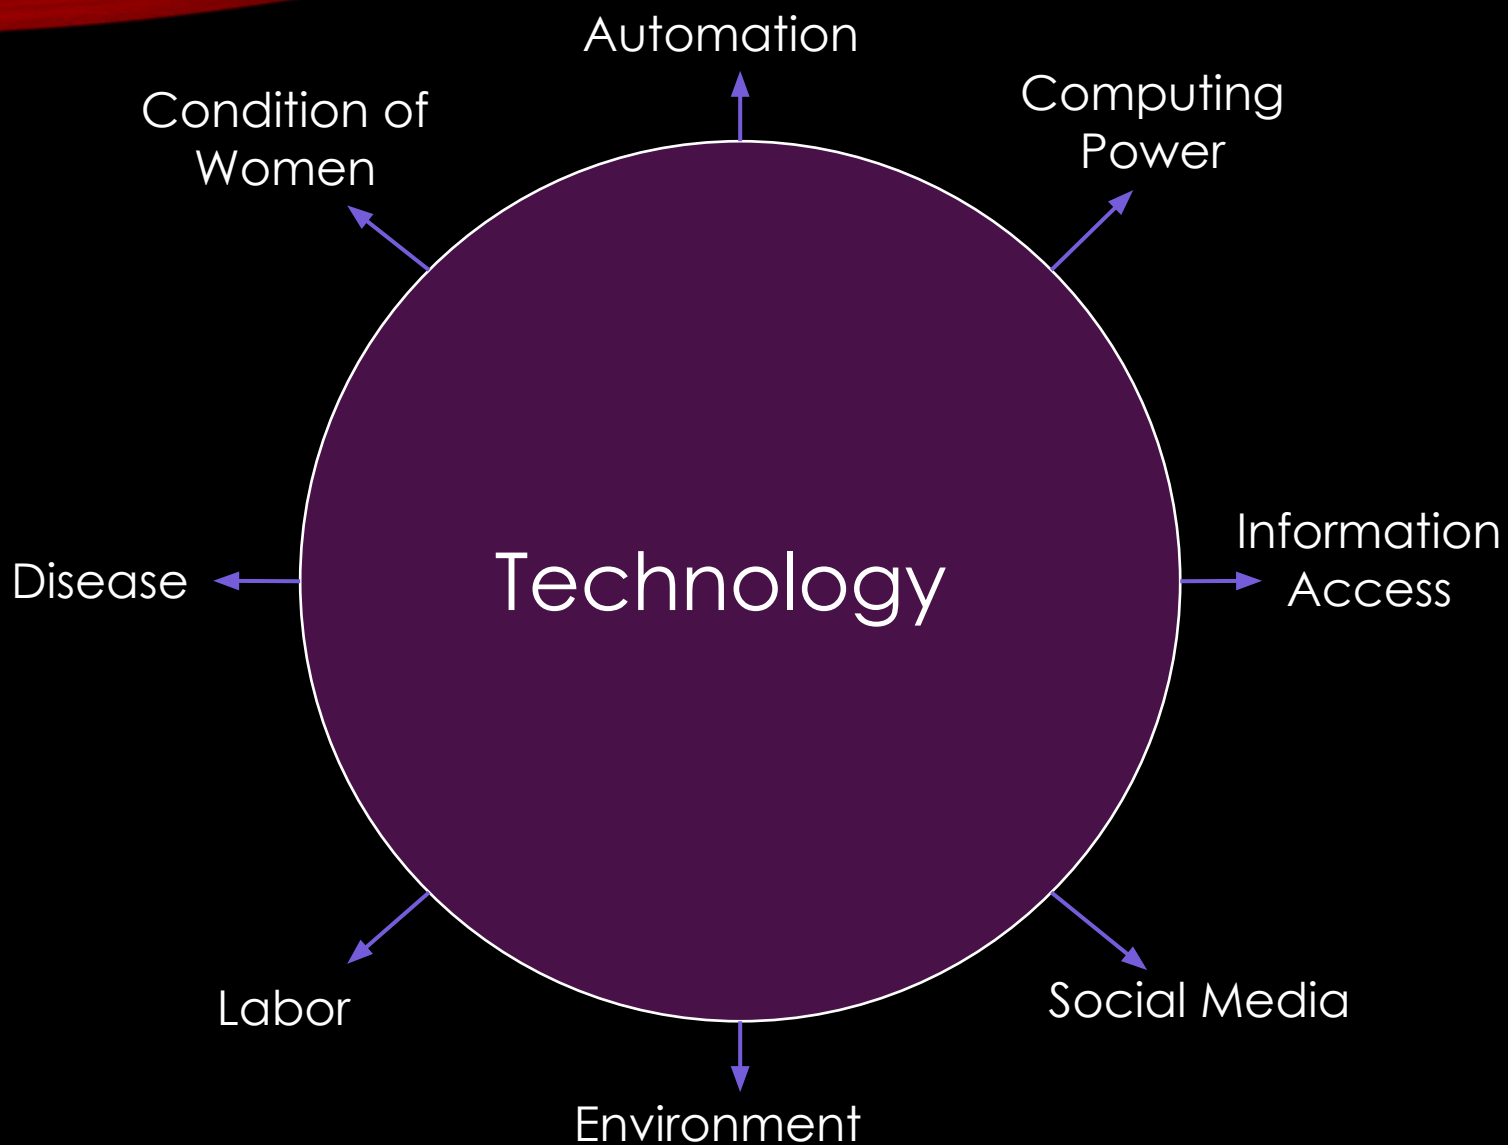

- How do people build and benefit from fair societies?
- What is the relationship between power and unreasonable discrimination?

DEMOGRAPHICS

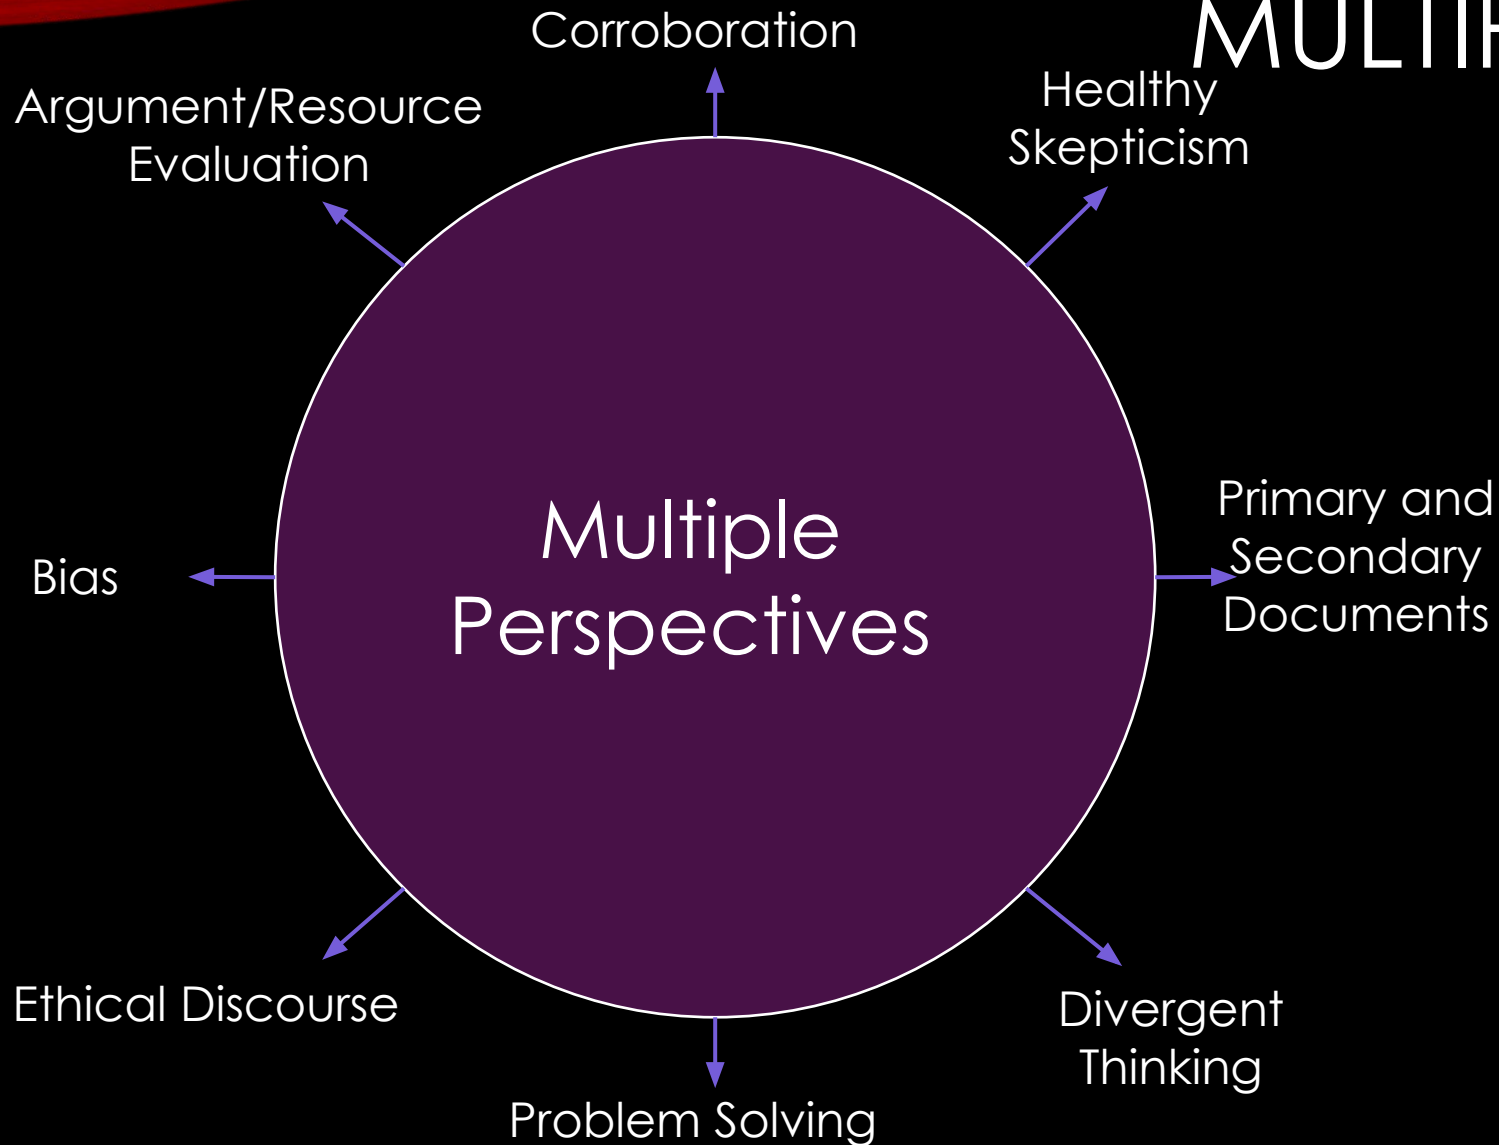

- How do human populations change over time and what impact do those changes have on the making of human societies?
- What are the characteristics of “healthy” demographics for human societies?
- What do older citizens owe younger ones and visa versa?
- How do moral/ethical values change over time?

TECHNOLOGY

- How has technology shaped the development of the following areas: war making, information access, transportation, manufacturing, communication and the environment?
- What is the appropriate use of technology in society?

MULTIPLE PERSPECTIVES

- How do citizens separate fact from opinion to find truth?
- How do citizens create and defend arguments in a social discourse?
- How do citizens who disagree, compromise to solve humanity's problems?
